DI MAJO NORANTE

Di Majo Norante has been making wine since the 19th century, as evidenced by the old cellars under Campomarino Square and in the old family building. The commitment to viticulture was taken over first by Luigi and then by Alessio di Majo and continues today in parallel with research and experimentation. Di Majo Norante produces its own wines from grapes grown on 123 hectares of vineyards on the ancient feudal estate of the Marquises of Norante di Santa Cristina. Di Majo Norante's winemaking philosophy follows a traditional approach to viticulture and winemaking, with an emphasis on preserving all the characteristics of Mediterranean winemaking.
