ANGELVIN MAISON

The Angelvin family has been based in Saint-Tropez since 1944. It was only through Logan Wallace Angelvin, who continues the winery of his great-grandfather, that in 2016 was bottled for the first time its own cuvée rosé. After several years of delivering his harvest to the cooperative. The grape varieties Grenache, Tibouren and Mourvèdre thrive on the slopes of the estate overlooking the sea. After the conversion of the winery to organic farming, the oenologist Laurence Berlemont Logan accompanies the winery.
